To Whom It May Concern:

I have had the honor and pleasure of knowing Mark Taylor and his family since 1999. I first met Mark through a mutual friend as part of the Christian International Business Network – a network of local and national members all with a calling to the marketplace. We met in order for Mark to strategically help me in my business. Since that time, I know he has been able to help countless in not only their walk with the Lord but also in their walks in the business community as well.

Mark has a tremendous heart to see those struggling in business to see and experience freedom. This purposeful desire has also expanded into his strategic prayer initiatives to be on the cutting edge of transformation for the state as well. Mark truly has a heart for the community and has allowed his experiences – both in business and life – to be shared in order to try to better the lives of those he comes in contact with. He continues to show and bear fruit in this area – as evidenced in his leading of a Full Gospel Businessmen's group here in Destin which already has a faithful following. Furthermore, Mark and his business partner David have taken this desire even a step further by forming a business that's sole purpose is to "coach" up or free business people.

For as long as I have known, I have thought of him in high regards as a man of character, integrity, and vision.

Please feel free to contact me should you need anything further. Thanks so much!

Sincerely,
